A LIST OF THE Bohemian and Moravian Emigrants to Saxony.

FOREWORD.

For almost all of our knowledge of the details of Moravian settlement in America we are indebted to the painstaking care and historical foresight of George Neisser, preacher, schoolmaster, scrivener, lawyer, and mechanic. His handwriting covers many pages of the Bethlehem Diaries, and numerous scattered sheets and letters attest the care with which he forestalled the needs of the future student of Moravian history. After his death, at Philadelphia, in 1784, his remaining historical notes were purchased from his widow, in 1807, and placed in the Archives at Bethlehem. Among these was this "Verzeichniss Emigrirter Böhmischer und Möhrischer Familien," a most important manuscript of some 200 pages, here presented almost exactly as it was prepared. The only change from the original that has been made has been, in the need of economy of space, to do away with the tabular system of enumeration.

Neisser has divided every two pages into columns, as follows: (1) Number, (2) Name, (3) Date of Birth and Death, (4) Whence Emigrated, (5) Marriage, (6) When Emigrated, (7) Children. It is evident that while Neisser began this arrangement he soon found it troublesome and unhandy for mechanical reasons, and crowded his material out of its place. Where references are given these are to the Relatio of Spangenberg, the Notariats Instrumenten (Herrnhut), the Diptychon (an unidentified list of persons, living and dead), and the Hymns of Zinzendorf. These references occur so numerously that they are here mentioned once and for all. Where there are omissions, discrepancies or duplications, these have been reproduced, with the intention of presenting to the historical student an exact copy of the original, in so far as possible.

A very large number of the names contained in this list will be found in groups enumerated in Bishop Levering's History of Bethlehem as forming the early settlers of that town and others may be traced through the stories of Nazareth, Lititz and Philadelphia. The historical importance of this list, therefore, lies in the fact that it is the starting-point from which to follow almost any effort of our church work, whenever that work is associated with the name of an individual. It is to be presumed, too, that it measures, at least fairly, the total amount of the Bohemian and Moravian contribution to the Renewed Church. In reality this contribution was not large, numerically; there are 648 names in the list, including a few duplicates; but these names represent less than 150 families, if careful count be taken. It was therefore homogeneous material, and hence its weight of influence.

The attention of the reader is drawn particularly to discrepancies of spelling in proper names: Thus Gzulius, Czulius, and Schulius, are of course of the same families, though here treated as separated relationships. A casual examination of the dates under these captions will prove this.
